

6516204802.txt

I request that the FCC not restrict the free speech rights of companies that wish to provide freely available information of any nature to their customers.
"That government is best which governs least!"

The best thing you can do for the public is "get out the way" and let the market system work.

That would be the hallmark of a conservative administration that would like to get re-elected.